ABSTRACT

Focusing primarily upon regular students in credit programs at six of Hawaii's community colleges, this report presents data tables summarizing enrollment trends and selected personal and academic student characteristics. The tables cover: (1) headcount enrollment for each college and training center in regular credit programs and in apprentice/journeyworker and other special programs; (2) headcount enrollment for each community college from fall 1972 through fall 1982; (3) full-time equivalent enrollment for each college for the same years; (4) student enrollment broken down by sex, educational objective, major program area, attendance status, total student semester hours (SSH's) taken, average SSH taken, permanent home address, local address, tuition status, age, U.S. citizenship, registration status, and ethnic background; (5) changes in these student characteristics between 1978 and 1982; and (6) distribution of college majors by program between fall 1973 and fall 1982 for the community college system as a whole and for each college. The data reveal that 83% of the 26,616 students registered in fall 1982 were regular students; that enrollment showed an increase of 7% over the previous fall; that the numbers of part-time and female students continued to grow in both number and proportion; and that the average age of the community college students had steadily risen since fall 1977. FALL ENROLLMENT REPORT
UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII, COMMUNITY COLLEGES
FALL 1982

This is a brief report summarizing data on students at Honolulu, Kapiolani, Kauai, Leeward, Maui and Windward Community Colleges under the Office of the Chancellor for Community Colleges*. Included are data on enrollment trends and selected personal and academic characteristics of students. Such data have been found to be extremely helpful in describing and understanding the nature of the clientele served, assessing and planning programs, and responding to inquiries from various governmental and other agencies.

The primary emphasis of this report is on regular (classified and unclassified) students in the credit programs. Data on other students served, largely in non-credit programs such as Apprenticeship programs, Senior Citizens centers, etc., are limited to registration counts.

Sources of Data

Except for Table 1, the information cited in this report was extracted from the Student Enrollment Reports (SER) as of October 22, 1982. The basic data are derived from student applications, personal history forms, and student class registrations.

Highlights

A. Registrations in various community college offerings number 26,616 this fall (Table 1). Of these:

1. 22,176, 83%, are regular (classified and unclassified) students in the credit programs of the community colleges.

2. 123, about 0.5%, are early admittees, or concurrent registrants, enrolled in credit programs.

3. 1,186, 4%, are registered in non-credit apprenticeship/ journeyworker programs.

4. 3,130, about 12%, are registered in special offerings such as those presented at the Community Development Workshop, Ho'omana, Employment Training Office, and the Kaneohe Community Center.

B. Data on the 22,176 regular (classified and unclassified) students (Tables 2, 3, 4) in the credit programs show the following:

1. This fall's enrollment of 22,176 students is the highest recorded for the community colleges.

*This report excludes data for Hawaii Community College which will be reported with, and as an organizational component of, the University of Hawaii at Hilo.

2. The enrollment shows an increase of 1,369, 7%, over last fall.

...Enrollment increased at all campuses, ranging from an increase of 3% (Honolulu and Leeward) to 21% (Maui).

...Enrollment increased 5% at Windward, 8% at Kauai, and 9% at Kapiolani Community Colleges.

3. Certain trends are continuing in terms of student characteristics.

...The number of women attending the UH Community Colleges has risen steadily each fall, since 1977. For the third straight year, women have made up the larger proportion of the CC student body.

Women students this fall number 11,449 (52%) compared with 10,560 (51%) last fall and 9,116 (48%), in Fall 1978.

...There are more part-time students (numerically and proportionately) than in previous years.

Part-time students this fall number 12,284 (55%), compared with 10,927 (53%), last fall. This is an increase of 1,357 (12%), over last fall.

...FTE:HEADCOUNT ratios are declining.

The ratio of FTE students to headcount enrollment is .63 this fall, considerably less than the .68 in Fall 1978.

...Students continue to take lighter credit loads.

The average semester hours carried by all students (full- and part-time students) this fall is 9.4 compared with 9.6 last fall, and 10.1 in Fall 1978.

...The mean and median ages of students continue to increase.

The mean age increased from 25.0 in Fall 1978 to 25.3 this fall. The median age increased from 20.9 in Fall 1978 to 22.1 this fall.

4. There appears to be little change in the nature of the students attending the community colleges in terms of the following characteristics:

...U.S. citizens, students with Hawaii permanent home addresses and Hawaii resident tuition status continue to comprise 90% or more of the students.

5. A brief analysis of the distribution of students, by majors, shows that:

...Liberal Arts majors comprised 39% of the enrollment this fall, 40% last fall. There were 345 (4%) more liberal arts majors this fall.

...Vocational education majors comprised 47% of the enrollment this fall, 45% last fall. There were 913 (10%) more vocational education majors throughout the community colleges. It should be noted that beginning Fall 1981, students working toward the Certificate of Completion were included in their appropriate vocational education major. Prior to Fall 1981, these students could be included only in the Unclassified category. This fall there were 178 students included in vocational education Certificate of Completion programs.

...Though the proportion of unclassified students remained stable at 14% of the enrollment this fall, there were 153 (5%) more unclassified students throughout the community colleges.

...An examination of the data on majors (Appendix A) shows substantial changes (±15% with at least a difference of 10 students) in several programs.

Programs showing substantial increases: Business, Computer Science & Data Processing, Finance, Commercial Baking, Nursing, Police Science, Building Maintenance Technology, Electrical Installation & Maintenance Technology, Electronics Technology, Engineering Technology, Graphic Arts, Metal Working Technology, and Refrigeration & Air Conditioning.

Programs showing substantial decreases: Industrial Education, Agriculture, and Carpentry.

Summary

With a Fall 1982 enrollment of 20,176, the Community Colleges have put together back-to-back fall semesters of 1,000 plus enrollment gains. This fall's enrollment shows a 7% increase over last fall's record high enrollment of 20,807. These gains come after a five-year period of generally stable enrollment.

Certain trends are also continuing with this fall's enrollment: 1) part-time students are growing both in number and in proportion to the student body; 2) the number of female students is also growing both numerically and proportionately; and 3) the average age of the total CC enrollment has risen steadily since Fall 1977.
